

THE CONGREGATIONAL
NOMINATING COMMITTEE IS PLEASED TO PRESENT NOMINEES FOR

Covenant's 2017
Pastor Nominating Committee
(PNC)

Brock Daniels

Brock has been a member of Covenant since 1997. He has served three terms on Session and has chaired the Personnel, Outreach and Christian Education Ministries. He served on previous search committees for Pastor, Christian Educator, Transitional Pastor and Director of the Weekday School. He co-facilitates adult Sunday School and is familiar to many of us as song leader at our congregational retreat and other venues. He also serves on the board of GAP ministries. Professionally Brock serves as Senior Director of Human Resources for Automatic Data Processing (ADP) in Augusta.

Charlotte Ealick

Charlotte Ealick has been a member of Covenant since 1984. She and her husband, John, have three sons who were baptized and confirmed at Covenant. She is currently most active in the church's music program where she sings in the choir and leads the children's handbell group, as well as ringing in the Celebration Ringers and in the quartet, the Ensembells. You may occasionally see Charlotte and her husband at a table in the narthex offering Equal Exchange coffee and chocolate as part of the Presbyterian Coffee Project. In the past, Charlotte has served in Presbyterian Women and as an elder on the session. She has also previously served on a PNC. Charlotte works at Augusta Prep where she is the director of technology.

Joslyn Fields

Joslyn Sanders Fields, a retired educator and education administrator, is a fourth generation Presbyterian from Sumter, S.C.

In service to the Church she has taught Sunday school classes/groups, preschool ministry, played in handbell choirs, and currently serves a second call as an Elder where she works with the buildings and grounds ministry. She is also active with Presbyterian Women, Covenant Book Group and a GAP volunteer.

Joslyn is married to Marvin and the couple has four adult daughters, Erin Fields Saddler (Louis), Erica Fields, Brandi Fields, and Britney Fields-Blackstock (Nick).

Amy House

Amy is a clinical psychologist and professor in the Department of Psychiatry and Health Behavior at the Medical College of Georgia. Her work involves the treatment of adults with severe emotion dysregulation, PTSD, and substance abuse, as well as training and supervising psychiatry residents and psychology interns in evidence-based psychotherapy.

She is married to Ralph Gillies, who is also a psychologist at MCG. They have three children, Owen (12), Naomi (9), and Jonah (6). Ralph and Amy met here in Augusta and were married at Covenant in 1999. They have been active in the life of the church since that time, and consider the members of this congregation to be their church family. Amy is currently serving as an elder on the Session, and welcomes the opportunity to assist our congregation in finding a new pastor for the next era of our church.

Grace Huff

Grace is a junior at Lakeside High School and is happy to represent our youth on the PNC. She has attended Covenant her entire life. Her Uncle, Reverend Allen Huff, baptized Grace here at Covenant in 2000 and she became a member in 2015 following confirmation. Grace is an active member of our youth group and has served on the Presbytery's Youth Council. She has attended both Middle and High School Montreat Youth Conferences for many years and is looking forward to serving the church in this important way.

Ron Lewis

As a physician and scientist, Ron has often had colleagues ask how can you be religious and believe in such. He says, "I feel sorry for them, for it makes perfect sense to me. My religious knowledge did not end with 9 year old Sunday school doctrine but matured through high school, obtaining the God and Country award in scouting, and then total immersion into the Methodist Student Movement as a college student at Tulane. My religious training kept up with my scientific training and the two easily meshed."

Ron has practiced academic Urology for 43 years, soon to retire. He and Barbara have made homes in churches wherever they have lived, often heavily involved in social justice areas. He has taught Sunday school, served on session as an elder twice, led Wednesday night programs, etc. here at Covenant. Their church "family" is important to Ron and Barbara and they feel that this one is rich in such a totally encompassing inclusive way, where the dignity of all people is highly valued.

Aubrey Moore

Aubrey has been a member of Covenant since 2004. He has served two terms as deacon and one as ruling elder, including election to Chair of the Diaconate and Clerk of Session. He has served on the Building and Grounds, Weekday School, Fellowship, and Outreach Ministries, the Building Commission, the Noah Team, and more recently the Fiscal Sustainability Task Force. Aubrey also served on the search committees that brought John McCrosky and Rev. Stu Ritter to Covenant. He has assisted with Youth fundraisers and Youth Fellowship. He is a long-time usher, handbell ringer, and more recent addition to the choir.

Aubrey is happily married to Sabina Widner. They have two children, Ava 17 and Ian 16. They recently celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary. Aubrey attended LSU and UGA, where he obtained his Ph.D. in Clinical Psychology. He has been in private practice since 1996. Aubrey states he would be honored and privileged to serve on the PNC.
